ANNIVERSARY WEDDING PARTY

Thursday evening, Sept. 21, being the 30th anniversary of Mr. and Mrs. Fred Currier's marriage, they carefully tucked the youngest of seven blessings into his little bed and donning their "Sunday clothes" betook themselves to the movies, where they planned to spend an hour. After this a pleasant walk to their home on Derby street. Imagine their surprise on arriving there, being greeted by about fifty relatives and friends, who had come in to help them celebrate the evening.

They were a merry crowd, playing cards, singing, etc. Delicious sandwiches, cake and coffee were served.

Such an enjoyable time that they almost forgot to think of home, it being nearly midnight before the good wishes for 30 years more of wedded life and "good night" expressions were given.

W. R. C. Dance and Social

The dance and social Saturday evening in the Foss hall, given under the auspices of the W. R. C., proved a great success. The finely rendered music of the Curtis orchestra was fully appreciated by all. A few old-fashioned dances were called off, as in past generations. Those who did not dance, enjoyed the card tables.

Island Pond Progressing?

Under the "knockers" of our town, with more emphasis on each successive repetition, Island Pond is backsliding, instead of improving. Of course every town must have its knockers, who, by the way are not always the first to contribute to improvements.

We would wish, however, to give the local specimens of this bunch something to think about by citing a few instances of our town's advancement.

First there is the Clyde River Power Co. Inc. Store, where one may obtain anything in the electrical line from electric percolators and fans to electric light bulbs. The company has erected a new building which adds not only to the appearances, but also to the value of one of our principal streets.

Next, three new bungalows, erected by F. E. Boyce on Pleasant street and Fitzgerald Ave. If Island Pond is not improving, why does such a real estate venture pay?

A new bakery has opened on Cross street, and is turning out about 1500 or 2000 loaves of bread weekly, besides supplying the town with pastries.

We are able to support still another fruit store, that opened by Salem Joseph on Railroad street.

The "Herald" office has installed a complete line of stationery, and finds no lack of customers, back sliding or not. St. James the Greater and Christ Churches are making extensive exterior repairs, which proves that the community is not so back-sliding in religion. Here are four new stores, four new buildings erected and two public buildings being repaired, all in about four months time. Who says Island Pond is going backwards.

REGULATIONS FOR THE SPAULDING TROPHY COMPETITIONS

The following regulations are those drawn up by the tennis committee governing play and membership in the "Y" of competitors for the Spaulding Tennis Trophy.

(1) The Spaulding Tennis Trophy will be awarded to the person winning three annual local R R Y M C A tennis championships in singles beginning in 1922.

(2) The winner of said trophy must hold a continuous membership in the local "Y" from and including the year he wins the first championship.

(3) A competitor for said trophy must be a member in good standing of the Island Pond R R Y M C A holding a yearly membership from October 31st of the previous year.

(4) Matches may be defaulted by the committee if in their judgement any player does not make an effort to meet his opponent within a reasonable time.

(5) The committee reserves the right to seed the best players in various parts of the draw in order to avoid eliminating the best players in the first round.
